150th Anniversary

Kohler's 150th anniversary is a celebration of bold ideas, and an open invitation to join us in creating a better tomorrow.

At the American club

Celebrating 150 Years

Kohler was the first to bring bold color into kitchens and bathrooms. Now, in celebration of our 150th anniversary, we are bringing back two beloved shades from our archives. Spring Green and Peachblow earned the most votes from fans like you, and will become part of a new KOHLER limited-edition product release later this year.

Spring Green

Voters were drawn to the fresh vibes of Spring Green. Inspired by the blue-green waters of a cool northern spring, this historic hue from 1927 has modern relevance in kitchens and bathrooms as a standout piece or blended within your design. Coming summer 2023.

Peachblow

An original pastel shade from 1934, Peachblow was a bold complement to common browns and taupes of the time. Today the vintage color is still a bold choice to complement natural tones. Voters recognized its allure, and now Peachblow will be brought back to life once again. Coming summer 2023.

Smart Life

Cloud technology, big data, Internet of Things, artificial intelligence, voice control — Kohler applies these state-of-the-art technologies in kitchen and bathroom spaces for a comfortable, convenient, and elegant lifestyle.

New PVD Finishes

Brushed Titanium /
Brushed Rose Gold

Titanium has a sleek and modern look that appeals to many people. Rose gold is a popular color choice due to its warm, feminine, and elegant look.

When these 2 colors combined with a brushed finish, the subtle lines or scratches can create a more natural and organic appearance than a polished finish, which may appear too shiny or artificial. It adds a modern twist to the classic color and enhances the texture and depth of the metal.

Brush TT and brush RGD are popular trend in home deco, products and fashion. This reflects the recent Quiet Luxury insights that people are looking for.

Veil Vessel Bathroom Sink

'18.02 by Janet Echelman Veil™ Vessel Bathroom Sink

The Janet Echelman Artist Editions sink design was inspired by the shape of the water molecule (H₂O). Its title "18.02" refers to the molecular weight of water.

The sink expresses an aesthetic balance that is both calming and invigorating, combining intricate metallic linework with the asymmetrical fluidity of the Veil vessel.

Echelman, an alumna of Kohler's Arts/Industry program who subsequently received the Guggenheim Artist Fellowship and the Smithsonian American Ingenuity Award, is known for her soft, billowing sculptures that have transformed urban environments around the world.

Her TED talk, "Taking Imagination Seriously," has been viewed over two million times and her work was ranked #1 by Oprah Winfrey on her list of "50 Things That Make You Say Wow!".

Artist Edition

Inspiration for the white marble with gold veining comes from the famous traditional ceramic handicraft “Kintsugi Restoration”, which originated in Asia, and the classic gold marble pattern. The two inspirations complement each other and together inspire this bold and unique contemporary design.

The marbled gold pattern is an enduring classic finish in contemporary interior decoration. The irregular patterns formed by the veins of gold complement each other and add magnificence to the space.

The shape, inspired by 1800's hardware valve stops, was the perfect canvas to bring to life fine jewelry for your bathroom. The material, unique marbles from around the world with extraordinary veining characteristics, lent itself to the wide, flat handle design, allowing the veins to wrap around in one continuous flow.

Uniqueness
 ·Each piece is shaped, sanded, and polished by hand, to take it well beyond function to an art statement, then hand-selected to be paired to another to ensure the most similar set for your bathroom. No two are alike. Each piece as individual as you are.

Two types of marbles for choice
 ·The Nero Marquina is primarily black with white veining and works with a more traditional look.
 ·The Howlite is mostly white with black veining and pairs well with contemporary designs.
